UNION STATION PROSPECTS GOOD

Pennsylvania, the Only Road Which Would Need to Make any Changes is Ready to Act.

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE

Road is Dissatisfied With the Curve
Through City on Which All
Freights Must Stop.

Conditions are ripe, and indications are in that direction, for a union depot near the intersection of the Big Four, L. E. & W. and C. H. & D. railroads. That may sound preposterous, but stories that have been emanating from authentic sources for the last few days are to the effect that such a thing is possible and highly probable. It has developed that the Pennsylvania is willing and it is the only road of the four that would have to make any effort or change in order to bring about such an improvement. It is also a well known fact that the Pennsylvania needs a new depot and wants one, that the C. H. & D. was once ordered to build and that a new depot for the other two roads would not be out of order.

The talk of a union station has come from Pennsylvania way. That road must make a change very soon as the present conditions are far from convenient. At present every freight passing through here on that line must stop at the intersection of the Pennsylvania and the C. H. & D. in order to abide by the State laws. By stopping on that curve which is in that part of the track which passes through this city, the tonnage on every freight train is reduced by three hundred tons. The Pennsylvania would like very much to have another route through the city to alleviate that difficulty as much of the southern freight service is now being hauled through this city instead of being carried around by Indianapolis.

The Pennsylvania has had a plan for coming through the city for some time. It is to run the track down Thirteenth street through the Stewart & Tompkins and Belmont additions to Main street, thence west to the L. E. & W. and Big Four and come in on the same track. It is said that if the city would grant the Pennsylvania the right-of-way in Thirteenth street, the company would take care of its own right-of-way, west of Main street. Several surveys of that route have been made of which the Rushville people know nothing.

There are many advantages for Rushville to gain if that plan were followed out, aside from securing a union depot. The Pennsylvania tracks through this city would be taken up and incidentally, it is likely that the property would revert to the abutting property owners. The removal of the tracks would be a great improvement as they long have been an eyesore to Rushville.

For that reason it seems that the property owners would be much in favor of the plan and would bring what influence they could to bear on the city authorities so that the road would get a square deal. It seems that the Rushville Retail Merchants Association could well afford to take an active part in the movement as it would mean much to Rushville to obtain such an improvement. The change would probably mean that many of the through Louisville Pennsylvania trains would be sent through this city instead of by Indianapolis.

PREPARING FOR WHEAT SPECIAL

Lecturers Are Gathering Data From Many Sources to be Used in Talks on Train.

TO BE HERE MORNING AUG 23

Preparations are under way for the Wheat Improvement lecture train to be run over the Big Four lines in Indiana, August 21-23. Data is being collected from many sources for the lectures that will be given on this train and the literature that will be published. The following are a few of the facts gathered for use in this campaign:

Indiana grows annually more than 2,500,000 acres of wheat. The average yield in the State for the past ten years has been 15.2 bushels per acre. The cost of producing an acre of wheat in Indiana is about $12.37. An increase of five bushels in the average yield per acre would mean an annual increase in the value of the crop of $12,500,000. The average yield of wheat grown under ordinary farm conditions on the Purdue experiment station farm for the past 25 years has been 28 bushels per acre. Experiments in ten representative counties of the State have shown an average gain due to fertilization of wheat of 11.6 bushels per acre. The average cost per acre of fertilization was $4.14, leaving a net profit per acre of $7.46.

In comparison of wheat grown continuously on the same land with wheat grown in four course rotation containing clover, it was found that the plots in the rotation yielded 5.6 bushels per acre more than the plots in the continuous wheat series.

WINS FAVOR WITH LARGE AUDIENCE

The Hinshaw Grand Opera Company
Gives Varied Program at Chautauqua.

CROWD COULDN'T GET ENOUGH

Will Sing "Martha" in Costume This Evening Instead of Opera Which Was Advertised.

The Hinshaw Grand Opera Company did not come to the program committee of the chautauqua association too highly recommended, if the manner in which the audience at this afternoon's entertainment greeted it is to be accepted as any criterion. The company appeared in a varied program and did not give the opera "Il Trovatore" as advertised.

But it seems that even that opera could not have pleased as well as did the program this afternoon. The large crowd, which was second only to the Tuesday afternoon crowd, just could not get enough and each one of the individual members of the company, as well as the company as a whole, was greeted with prolonged applause.

The company appeared first and was heartily urged to respond, but did not. Mr. Hughes, tenor, sang a solo, and responded with two Scotch ballads which won favor with the audience.

Mr. Hinshaw has such a pleasing stage presence and winning personality that the audience refused to allow him to stop. He first appeared in a musical reading "Aix Italiens" and followed that with a reading which was even more loudly applauded. He gave the Chinese, Irish, French and German version of "Mary's Little Lamb" and then gave still another version which is dedicated to the girls of Boston. He closed with "The Old Maid's Prayer" which was more popular with the audience. Mrs. Ha Hinshaw, soprano, sang and was heartily received. Mrs. Gertrude Downey, who has a magnificent alto voice and the accompanist are the other members of the company.

Instead of giving "The Bohemian Girl" as advertised tonight they will sing "Martha" in costume.

SEES DENTAL TRUST.

That a dental association of New York is attempting to form a gigantic trust is the belief of Dr. N. H. DeLap of St. Paul. A few days ago the doctor received a communication from the association stating that it is preparing to buy up all the small dental parlors throughout the country and desired to buy his. The letter stated that the association desired to retain him in its employ, but that it would adjust the prices for work. Dr. DeLap replied with a refusal to sell out saying the trust would have to use a little better bait.

Tomorrow marks the coming of the Chautauqua Ladies orchestra to the chautauqua for a three days' stay, or until the close of this year's assembly. The organization won instant success last summer, the first season out. As the result of their last season's tour many complimentary communications have been sent to the bureau under which they work. A sample of the recommendations is the following, written by M. W. Ellis, president of the New Albany, Ind., chautauqua:

"Among the very good things you sent us last year was the Chautauqua Ladies orchestra. I think 'if anything our people were more ready with applause at the close of their week's engagement than on their first appearance. Both their popular and classical selections were equally well received. Besides we found them most accommodating in helping out in a pinch when the program was disarranged."

The ladies orchestra will be gladly received here beyond a doubt as there never has ben a woman's musical organization on the local program which has not made a favorable impression at the very beginning. The orchestra will give the preludes at all of the programs and they will give a complete concert.

Friday afternoon, Miss Grace Hemingway will appear on the program twice. At 2:30 she will give a lecture on the subject, "The Art of Story Telling," which will be of interest to everyone. An hour later she will give her usual story hour which is one of the course subjects that are on the program every afternoon.

Miss Hemingway is a gifted story teller and the daily treats which she affords the children is one of the pleasing and attractive features of the assembly, this the first time she ever appeared here. She possesses an unusual talent, effectiveness and talent, and her tales delight and also charm the children as nothing else could. She has created something unique in the art of story telling by selecting different countries for the scenes and subjects of her tales and she makes them more realistic by wearing the costume common to the

TO ADOPT DRASTIC METHOD

Chautauqua Police Will Stop Annoyances During Programs.

The disturbances while the programs are being rendered at the chautauqua long since have ceased to be a joke. Last night the interruptions were very annoying for the people on the platform and more so for the audience. The police on the grounds have been ordered to adopt drastic measures to stop the practice. Young people who persist in talking, laughing and running near the coliseum will be forcibly ejected from the grounds or more summarily dealt with if the nuisance does not abate.

HAD REMARKABLE BUSINESS ABILITY

Miss Drusie Hinchman, Former Resident, Who died in Indianapolis
Was Highest Salaried Woman.

ACTED AS PRIVATE SECRETARY

Miss Drusie Hinchman, 39 years old, for more than eighteen years the chief clerk in the legal department of the Lake Erie & Western railroad, and private secretary to John B. Cockrum, general attorney of the company, died yesterday at her home after an illness of a few days, says the Indianapolis Star. Miss Hinchman was at her desk until last Thursday evening, although she had not been well for several days. Her death was due to heart disease.

Miss Hinchman came to Indianapolis from Rushville about twenty years ago with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hinchman. Mr. Cockrum spoke highly of Miss Hinchman last evening. He said that she was a woman with remarkable business ability and was one of the highest salaried women in the city. Miss Hinchman was a member of the Tabernacle Presbyterian church and had a large acquaintance outside of the business world. The funeral will be conducted at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the home.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS PICNIC

All Day Sunday School Rally at the Thompson Grove, Near Blue
Ridge, a Big Success.

MAY MEET AGAIN NEXT YEAR

Largest Gathering of Its Kind Ever Held in This Section of the State.

The all day picnic held in the W. S. Thompson grove, near Blue Ridge, yesterday was the largest Sunday school gathering ever held in this section of the State. Six hundred members of Sunday schools in Shelbyville, Gowdy, St. Paul, Vienna, Manilla, Homer, Rays Crossing, Blue-ridge and other neighboring cities and towns crowded the grove and held a rousing and enthusiastic rally. The weather was superb for an outdoor meeting, the grounds in fine condition, the speaking excellent and the event a success in every particular.

During the day interesting addresses along the line of instruction in Sunday school work were delivered by the Rev. George M. Smith and the Rev. J. T. Scull of Shelbyville, the Rev. Given of St. Paul, the Rev. Dashiell of Sandusky and several other pastors. The program for the day also included numerous recitations and a number of musical selections by the orchestra and quartet from the First Christian church of Shelbyville.

The big dinner spread for the six hundred at the noon hour will long be remembered as the "best ever" by those present at the picnic. A list of the delicacies brought forth from the big baskets would fill a column in the smallest type, but there was nothing that was not given the fullest justice by the hungry picnicers.

The Sunday school reunion proved such a success that another one will probably be arranged for next year.

GENERAL FUND'S MARGIN GROWS

Figures Based On Recently Completed Appraisal.

NO NEED TO TRANSFER FUND

For the First Time in Several Years the General Fund of the State Treasury Will Have a Substantial Margin, Brought About Without the Transfer to That Fund of the State Debt Sinking Fund.

Indianapolis, Aug. 10.—From appraisements made by state, county and township taxing officials, figures compiled by the state board of tax commissioners indicate that during the appropriation period of two years, beginning Oct. 1 of this year, the general fund of the state treasury will have a margin of approximately $100,000 on which to run. This will be brought about without the transfer to that fund of the state debt sinking fund, which has been necessary for several years.

No taxes on the current year's appraisalment will reach the state treasury until June, 1912, hence about one-fourth of the appropriation period will be conducted from taxes collected according to the appraisalment in force for the current taxing year, which is $151,147,799 lower on real estate and improvements than the appraisalment just completed for the next taxing year. The personal property valuation on which taxes are being paid this year is also lower than the corresponding valuation for the succeeding tax year, but the exact difference has not been determined. It is estimated, however, that it will be considerably less than the increase on real estate.

The total net appraisalment for taxing purposes of all the property in the state, made in the appraisalment season just closed, is $1,901,223,241. This is exclusive of mortgage exemptions, amounting to $58,395,979.

London, Aug. 10.—Winston Churchill, the home secretary, has announced that the present parliament will pass a bill providing home rule for Ireland.

WILL THE CONGRESS OVERRIDE HIS VETO?

Taft Preparing to Kill the Statehood Bill.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Because of the provision for the recall of the judiciary, President Taft will veto the statehood bill, it has been learned definitely. He will indite a veto message to congress setting forth in no uncertain terms his uncompromising opposition to the recall of the judiciary provision.

It is possible that congress will override his veto. House leaders declare that this will certainly be done in that body. The vote in the senate, 56 to 18, by which the statehood resolution was passed, indicates that there is serious probability of the measure being passed over the president's veto there, though senate leaders say that there may be difficulty in getting a two-thirds vote if the strength of the administration is openly thrown against the resolution. But what congress may do is not concerning President Taft so far as his policy with regard to the recall provision of the Arizona constitution is concerned. His veto will be prompt and emphatic. Arizona and New Mexico will not become states so long as the recall feature is kept in the Arizona constitution, if President Taft can possibly help it.

Family Reunions

The Daily Republican earnestly invites secretaries or any other officials of family reunion associations to send the dates and places of holding the annual meetings to this office so that they may be published and in that manner many members may be notified who might not otherwise receive the date for the annual event. The Republican will be pleased to receive dates and places of holding as soon as possible as well as accounts of the gatherings as soon as possible after they take place.

The following family reunions have already been announced:

The Rhodes family will hold their fifteenth annual reunion at Glen Miller Park, near Richmond, Saturday, August 12.

MATLOCK REUNION.

More than one hundred members of the Matlock family of Rush, Hancock, Howard, Marion, Shelby and Cass counties and Cincinnati met at the eighth annual reunion at Garfield Park, Indianapolis, Sunday. A basket dinner was served in the great pavillion at the park. Meeting was called to order at 2 p. m., by the president S. H. Matlock of Hancock county. After the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Harry Matlock, speeches were made by George Alexander of Indianapolis, William A. Alexander, E. A. and Mrs. D. F. Matlock of this city, Ernest Matlock of Lansing, Michigan, Mr. Campbell of Cass county, Frank Hufford and James B. Wright of Indianapolis, Noah Matlock gave a speech and recitation. Recitations were also given by Garnet Campbell. Quite a number from this city were in attendance. It was decided to hold the next reunion in the same place next year.

Obituary.

Gideon, one of the five sons of Aaron and Frances Wellman, early pioneers of Rush county, was born at the old Wellman homestead near New Salem, August 4, 1832, and there grew to manhood. July 27, 1856, Mr. Wellman was married to Charlotte, daughter of Judge Elias and Hester F. Poston. His entire married life, with the exception of a few months spent in Wabash county, was lived in his native county. Since 1898, the family home had been in this city. His five surviving children are Mrs. Jabez Winship, Mrs. Jesse G. Bennett, Mrs. Manfred Stevens and Mrs. Will Meredith of this county and Harvey P. Wellman, now located at Melbourne, Australia.

Early in the sixties, Mr. Wellman became a member of the Methodist Protestant church at Friendship but later transferred his membership to St. Paul's M. E. church, Rushville. He was a faithful, devout and earnest worker for the master and nothing but ill health kept him from church services on the Sabbath day.

Being a great reader of the Bible, it was but natural that the house of God should be one of earth's most attractive places for him.

Since the death of his devoted wife, July 27, last year, Mr. Wellman had been failing in health, the loss of his loved one, together with disease being too much for his usual rugged constitution. He gradually weakened under the strain until the evening of July 30, when quietly and peacefully death ended the struggle, dispelling his loneliness and restored to him the dear one whom he mourned.

Father Wellman was a man of decision, force and sterling worth, one of the kind that gives fiber and strength to American manhood and stability to character. He never faltered when duty called but was always ready to do what his convictions told him was the right thing to do. He acted well his part here and now has his reward "over there."

Many others who suffer similarly will be glad to benefit by Mr. Stewart's experience. F. B. Johnson & Co.

HENRY COUNTY HAS CANDIDATE

Would Enjoy Seeing W. L. Risk of New Castle Made Sixth District Republican Chairman.

HE DOES NOT SEEK THE PLACE

Is Generally Talked of For the Position—is Especially Fitted For the Place.

As the time for the political battles of 1912 approach and as the situation in the Sixth congressional district demands a Republican leader, who can unite all factions and weld into one solid G. O. P. organization the various divisions of the party, political leaders are casting about for the individual who can serve his party best in that capacity, says the New Castle Courier.

Throughout the district there are many splendid Republicans capable of such work, but after due investigation and inquiry in every county within the district, the Courier finds that the rank and file of Republicanism would have the mantle placed on the shoulders of William L. Risk, county auditor and chairman of the Henry county central committee.

The chairmanship has been quietly but earnestly discussed and gravely considered by the Republican leaders for several weeks past. Men have been weighed, their qualifications considered, their records investigated and their loyalty tested. Emerging unscathed from the rigid and searching scrutiny has come Mr. Risk. In every possible manner he has been found to fit all requirements and to be "the man of the hour" for the Republicans of the district.

Mr. Risk has long served the party efficiently and faithfully. As chairman of the county committee in Henry county he succeeded, under circumstances most difficult and in a period wrought with dissatisfaction, in delivering a Republican victory, emphasized by a normal majority. During the last campaign he had the unqualified support with but a few exceptions of every Republican leader in the county. He united in his bailiwick a solid effectual honest machine that concluded a harmonious campaign and achieved a splendid victory.

In New Castle where factory life and shop conditions have a great bearing not only in politics but in every other matter of a public nature, Mr. Risk is well and favorably known. The vast army of shopmen in New Castle highly regard him not only in a spirit of friendship but have in him a confidence of unimpeached integrity, forceful and wise leadership and unquestionable loyalty in matters pertaining to both business and politics.

No man is better known among the farmers of the district than Mr. Risk. He is by birth and career a farmer. Before being elected auditor of Henry county he tilled the soil and successfully managed his splendid farm near Greensboro.

Because of his twelve or more years as secretary of the Henry County Fair Association, he came in contact with the farmers more often than any other Republican in the district. In that trying position his leadership and executive ability again asserted itself and last year he concluded his career as a fair manager, favored with the friendship of legions of the sturdy and honest tillers of the soil.

Mr. Risk is in no way a candidate for the task for which he is so eminently qualified and so sought. He has other interests that require his attention and direction. During the consideration of material for district leadership he has never been consulted as far as his assuming the task was concerned. Yet there is a general belief that he would take up the work, if urged, and perform the exacting duties required of a district chairman to the best of his ability and to the glory and renown of Republicanism.

There is a revolt in Cuba owing to government graft. Up here we hang around City Hall instead of taking to the tall timbers when the jackpot passes around.

The Jews are marching on Albany to ask Gov. Dix for a Hebrew armory in New York City. Gift balls arranged in triplets can be had in abundance for annunciation.

In the last campaign no one could be found in Indiana who confessed to being in favor of forty cent bacon, says the Marion Chronicle. The guilty man has now been located, however. His name is John Worth Kern, and he introduced a resolution in the senate placing a heavy tariff on meat. If there were a campaign on this year, and the Sage of the Wildcat were a candidate again, this would certainly put him on the hog.

Honesty in Advertising.

The necessity of literal, exact truth for successful advertising, was given a foremost emphasis at the meeting of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America at Boston, says the Anderson Herald, last week. One speaker declared amid applause that a code of ethics for advertising could be made out of just one word, that word to be "honest." To this, he said, might be added the golden rule.

The profession of advertising has within the past decade attracted the devoted energy of a host of the brightest men in our country. They have pretty thoroughly learned the principle that the only way to build a successful business is on the foundation of the satisfied customer.

The dissatisfied customer is not an asset. In fact, he is very much of a liability. Any business man of keen perceptions would far rather that such a customer should never have entered his establishment. The slight profit that may be made off the stuff he bought is far more than offset by the left-handed advertising that he supplies to his friends to vent his dissatisfaction.

The only way to secure a satisfied customer is to represent goods precisely as they are. If the goods have defects, and the nature and extent of these defects are fully explained by the seller, the customer is never dissatisfied. Often he rather enjoys the defects, as he feels that they do not injure the goods for his purpose, but have been the means of enabling him to make a saving in price. He boasts of his bargain to his friends, and points out the faults, to show how essentially trifling they were, compared with the reduction that they made possible.

The customer would soon have discovered such defects, even had the seller remained silent about them. In that case, even if he bought the goods low, he would forever believe that he had been defrauded.

EDITORIALETTES.

There is every reason to believe that politics will warm up as soon as the weather cools down.

With the circus, the stock company and the fair going here on Friday, August 25, Rushville and Rush county people ought to be able to enjoy themselves.

This is the time of year when the garbage can is in bad odor (or order if that suits you better).

We shall see just how many high-brows there are in Rushville who appreciate grand opera.

Most of us can at least say that it is grand.

It seems that some fellows can always trace their genealogy back to some family that has a reunion—and a chicken dinner.

We see in the Tipton report of the Sharpville gun club shoot that a bullet missed its mark and struck R. Green at his home. That's a living example of hitting 'em where they live.

Never thought this of August, d'you?

She entered the county clerk's office shyly. She wanted a marriage license and she had the man's name all ready for the clerk. She blushed prettily under her big white hat and patiently answered all questions and she explained, so that no one would misunderstand, that "he" was on his way from another city and had asked her to get the license. And as she tripped out somebody heard her murmur: "It is better to have loved a short man than never to have love a tall."—Kokomo Tribune.

IS IMMUNE FROM BOLTS

Decatur County Seems to be Lightning Proof.

Scientists believe that Decatur county is immune from dangerous electrical storms. They say it is because of peculiar rock formation in Clifty creek near St. Paul. The rock it is said, contains properties that repel all electrical effects. Persons who have watched the phenomena for the past twenty years say that when a severe storm appears to be headed toward Decatur county it always divides or goes around and fails to do any material damage.

Notwithstanding that a few persons are skeptical on the subject, the fact remains that the county has yet to be the victim of a violent storm, while all the surrounding counties have been swept both by thunder and electrical storms.

Dr. J. C. Sexton Takes a Glance at Western Oregon

Albany, Oregon, August 3, 1911.

Kipling landed at San Francisco from India and fifteen minutes later the reporters were asking him "What do you think of our country?" It seems to be the universal western inquiry, "Your first visit to Oregon?" "Well what do you think of the country?" Down in Kentucky they asked "Whar you all from?" "Whar you all goin'?" But out here the people openly and above board fish for compliments. FISH? Did I say fish? No, indeed, they just hold you up and make you say it, and there's where I got in bad, for I told a Democrat Editor that there was a place on the map spaced off and marked Indiana and in the heart of it Rush county and I would not give one good Rush county farm for the whole volcanic, sulphureous State. So in answer to many letters from home here's a little of what one lazy visitor thinks.

Just give me your farm and you may have all the Eastern half of Oregon. So far as I know or can find out, it is rough, mountainous, raw, unsettled, no railroads, nor any other kind of roads, arid—and waste—not exactly a desert, but untouched, not fertile, and, compared to the western half, no good.

All western Oregon is divided into three parts—the Hood River Valley, the Rogue River Valley and the Willamette Valley. All the rest is just scenery and distance and the Southern Pacific Railroad. To be sure there are also in the State numbers of MOST FERTILE VALLEYS on THE GLOBE, abounding most largely in Boomers, Liars and Land agents, but these three are so extremely proud and boastful as to cause one to think there are no other places.

Hood River Valley raises apples, which she wraps, each one, in tissue paper and sends down to New York, where they sell for ten cents apiece. These orchard lands sell for two thousand an acre and they yield anything from two to five hundred plunks. Hood River people also boast of every thing else under the canopy, but when it comes to apples they tell you this is the identical spot where Eve turned the trick that turned Adam's head and both got turned out and after untold centuries they have found the place again. They don't eat 'em, they sell 'em and spend the money raising more.

The Rogue River Valley has its center and seat at a city called Medford in Jackson county and down there it's prunes and grapes and everything that grows. The farms are smaller there, the big ranches are going—farming more close, more intense and diversified, crop rotation, fertilization, and all the improvements. They are very wide advertisers, these Rogue River fellows. They have their commercial clubs in every town and city in this county and quite extensively and expensively abroad. And they get the results. Many have become rich, property at a premium, everything on the move and improve. It is very beautiful through there, more people, more finish, road building, electric and macadam street building, bitulithic, or asphalt, if you please. Nothing too good and lots of it. Just think they voted a million to improve the roads in that one county. The farmers did it. They are the rapid, quick action variety of business men and suffer a loss every year, because they can't get their stuff from where it is raised to where it is used. Bridges, barns, paint, everything that is convenient and life saving and labor yielding—not labor saving—you don't make a country that fine that quick without work and labor and then more work; for it is only thirty years old and the best of it isn't yet twenty. They spend freely in advertising, in building, in improving and the yield in money and people and comforts and blessings is thirty, sixty, yea, even a hundred fold.

The Willamette Valley is a triangle with Portland at its apex, and Salem, the State Capital, in the center, the Cascade Mountains forming the Eastern side, the Coast Range the western. Something like two hundred miles long, say, and maybe a hundred miles at its widest—an empire right in the heart of the State, and not a bad spot in it. If they have over half a million people in this valley I miss it and the valley will not be at its best until they have five or six million. They call it the Cherry Country and Salem has her annual cherry festival and exposition long about the fourth of July and it's the biggest thing in Oregon, and of its particular kind the biggest in the world I suppose or at least they say.

If I were going to give it a name from its most peculiar crop I would call it the Hop county. They claim to raise in this valley fifty per cent of all the hops grown in the United States. Half of this crop goes abroad and then comes back again, no doubt, from the label on the suds always says it is brewed from the best Bohemian hops. They tell me they run to a good profit at from fifteen to eighteen cents a pound, and this year they are all crazy, for Portland is overrun with buyers offering twenty-five and thirty cents. Failure of foreign crop for one thing effect of pure food laws for another, for now it must be hops and not chemicals that color and flavor and perfume "the beer that made Milwaukee famous." Then down at Lebanon they have a yearly strawberry fair where they show all of the original "fifty-seven varieties." The kinds you eat and preserve and can, and the kinds that color and flavor almost all the strawberry ice cream sodas in the country. I must not forget the canteloupes from the crevasses of the Cascades, a thousand and ear loads a year and the industry is only five year's young. You may or may not be tasting the toothsome Rockyford at all my Chicago friend, for the "Cascadia from the Cascades" is something just as good, and some say better, Jes so, Jes so-Boom! Boom! All right, my boastful, melonious Cascadia from the Cascades when you beat the Rockyfords from the Rockies you may fear up the map. Excepting corn, the fertile soil of the valley will grow almost every farm product known, and yet, it is still a timber country. Every hillside and mountain clothed with fir and pine, saw mill every where, timber to build and wood to burn. Way back yet is this valley. They are not yet out of the big ranch and the four-foot-wood stage. Piles of wood, 4-foot wood, sawed wood, split wood, mill ends, piled around the buildings, in the streets, right on the beautiful lawn of the State House at Salem. It is unsightly and mars the appearance of every city and town. It is all, as yet raw and crude and will take time and money to finish and polish and elaborate and get the best out of all the abundance nature has layed down so lavishly. But with our hundred years the start they beat us in some things. Every depot has to be up to a certain standard of size and architecture and about each depot is a nicely kept park, filled with beautiful flowers. They beat us in their street improvements, their wide asphalted avenues, the lighting and water systems, sewerage and all public utilities. They have learned from our mistakes and every little town starts out as if it was to become a big city and they planned and layed out their places accordingly. So they have every advantage that nature and the experience of others could give and they are building up a rich, rich country right out of the woods, and profited by all the modern methods of government, of business, of machinery, of electricity and of everything they will do in fifty years, more than we or our forefathers did in a hundred and fifty. And why not? Favored as they are with a fine climate, air from ocean and mountain, pure water, mild winters, reliable and abundant crops, sure returns for money and industry, every social and intellectual opportunity and everything else if you follow the boom book, they ought to make good. And another reason they do so well and will do, is because their population is almost exclusively American. Take him early, catch him young and then transplant him and you get the best of all creation, the American man. There now for Oregon and we're off for Seattle, the sea and Sitka, where we climb a totem pole or slide down the glacier and Walter Fisher and I will settle all this Controllor Bay and Alaska business for Uncle Billy Taft.

MELON MARKET TAKES A TUMBLE

Home Grown Crop is Larger Than Usual and Some Are Now on Local Market.

CANTELOUPES ARE CHEAPER

The melon season is now on in earnest, and in a few more days home-grown melons will be the principal ones on the market. If there is plenty of rain during the next few days, the local supply will be the greatest it has been for years. The melons now on the market are from the southern part of the state, principally from Posey county. The crop there is very good and the canteloupes shipped in from there are selling at four cents each and under, wholesale.

The drop in the price of melons the past few days has been great. Good sized watermelons sold Saturday for 20 to 30 cents, and they were home-grown. Canteloupes are also much cheaper since the home grown variety has been placed in the market.

OSLER RIGHT; YOUTH SUCCEEDS AGE

Gray Hair Is First Sign of Age.
 Harmless Remedy Restores to Natural Color.

Osler isn't the only man who turns down old age. In the business world the "young man" is always the one who picks the plums. It is an age of "new thought," "new talent," etc., and the old man is passed by in the race.

One of the first signs of coming age is the appearance of gray hairs. When you see them, act promptly. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will correct this sign, which so often deceives people into thinking that age is really upon them. It is a well-known fact that Sage and Sulphur will darken the hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur combines these old-time remedies with other agents, which remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize the druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agents, Hargrove and Mullin, Druggists, Rushville, Indiana.

ANOTHER BIG CROP IS LANDED

These Boobs Went Up Against a "Bottled Sunshine" Deal Which Recalls the Operations of That Hoosier Genius, Nickum, a Decade or More Ago—The Postoffice People Close Down on Promoter of the Enterprise.

New York, Aug. 10.—For his connection with the Sun Electric Generator company, the underlying principle of which was bottled sunshine, Elmer E. Burlingame, who has sold stock in many concerns that have interested the postoffice inspectors, has been arrested. The man claimed the credit for originating the idea. George H. Cove also went to the Tombs with Burlingame, who directed their corps of about 700 selling agents through the middle west and the south.

The inspectors have found in their mail complaints against the sunshine bottlers ever since last summer, when a statement of one of the former employees of the concern was printed telling that the machines, which were in successful operation at the company offices at 118 Malden Lane, derived their electricity from the Edison company's wires rather than from any merit of their own. The sale of stock, which had been going on merrily for nine months before this, suddenly slumped. Mr. Burlingame was to be found less frequently at the Manhattan address, for he was spending the greater part of his time in the offices of the American Trustee company of Jersey City. There it was, an inspector said, that the stock transfers of Burlingame's various companies were made. And this same inspector said that when he paid a visit to the rooms in Jersey City he found about two dozen seals of the corporation the business of which was transacted within its walls.

Let Sunshine Do Your Work.

The specific complaint on which the two men were arrested is that they were using the mails to defraud in soliciting stock subscriptions. Accompanying the soliciting letters there was much literature that told about the ease with which you could let sunshine do your work. The company had on hand more orders than it could fill. The only requirement was that the sky should be clear, so with the circulars went the government weather bureau estimate of cloudless days. Stock to the amount of $100,000 was sold. The company was capitalized, said the circular, for $5,000,000, all in common stock, and the charter of the company was such that no preferred stock or bonds could be issued. The prospective buyers were told that it was an Arizona corporation.

The value of Burlingame's arrest, as the inspectors saw it, was not so much for his connection with bottled sunshine as that it might be a wedge for learning more about the workings of the other companies with which he was connected. A partial list of these companies, prepared by the inspectors, includes the following: The Rocky Mountain Tunnel company; the Pittsburgh Gold Dredging company; the Cleveland Gold Dredging company; the Radial Telephone company; the North American Wireless association; the Raw Milk Product company; the Universal Roller Bearings company, and the Bennett Pump company.

FEELING RUNNING HIGH

The House of Lords Deeply Stirred Over Current Question.

London, Aug. 10.—Feeling ran high last evening in the house of lords. The manner of Lord Lansdowne was calm and restrained, but he was scarcely able to disguise the deepest anger and resentment at the government's treatment of the king, as was revealed in Lord Crewes's story. Lord Salisbury spoke in almost a paroxysm of rage directed at both the government and Lord Lansdowne.

Interpreting a part of Lord Lansdowne's remarks as a charge of party disloyalty, the Archbishop of York declared that he would vote for the bill reluctantly, as the opposition was inconsiderate of the king and injurious to the character of the house and the country.

A division will probably be called this evening, and it is expected that it will be "touch and go."

Another "Soul Mate" Story.

New York, Aug. 10.—To free her husband, she says, so he may marry his "soul mate," the daughter of a prominent New York politician, Mrs. Oscar A. Turner, declared she would go to a western state to apply for a divorce as soon as a satisfactory financial settlement is made. Mr. Turner is the millionaire president of the Ely Copper company.

Tragic Fate of Boys.

New York, Aug. 10.—Two Syracuse boys were found dead on top of one of the cars when a train pulled into the Grand Central station. It is supposed the boys were killed when the train sped into the tunnel near New Hamburg.

On the contrary, Mr. Lafferty has told the angry father just where his office is and the hours when he can be found there.

MINERS LOOK INTO ELECTION SCANDAL

It Is Alleged That Ballot Box Was Juggled.

Indianapolis, Aug. 10.—The investigating committee appointed by the executive board of the United Mine Workers to look into the charges that about 11,000 votes of Illinois miners were not counted at the international election last spring, according to present plans, will not close its investigations and make a report until it has heard from Thomas L. Lewis, president of the mine workers at the time of the election and a candidate for re-election against John P. White. It is likely, say members of the committee, that Lewis will be summoned formally on his return from the west, where he has gone for the benefit of his health.

The rules of the organization, it is pointed out, require a member to appear before executive board committees and give information. If he possesses it. There had been communication by mail between Lewis and the officers of the union, regarding the knowledge Lewis might possess as to what persons had keys to the vault in which were kept the ballot boxes, which it is now charged were opened, and ballots taken therefrom. Lewis was told that his appearance before the committee was desired. He replied that personally he had access to only the outer vault and not to the one in which were the boxes.

The girls disappeared ten days ago.

LIVED ELEVEN DAYS WITH HIS HEART CUT.

Autopsy Reveals Surprising Case of Victim of Stab Wound.

An autopsy on the body of Peter Paulsen, thirty years old, of New York, who, after a fight in which he received a deep gash in his breast, was removed to St. Vincent's hospital in an unconscious condition and who died in the hospital, revealed the astounding fact that the man had lived for eleven days with a knife wound in his heart fully an inch and a half deep.

Paulsen was a Dane of great physical strength. The wound was so large that Dr. E. S. Cockel of the hospital staff had great difficulty in checking the flow of blood. Gauze was finally shoved into the wound against the heart wall. This tended to check the flow. The outer wound, however, healed so rapidly that it had to be reopened several times to insert fresh gauze. In the meantime quantities of morphine were administered. The patient did not begin to suffer until the last ten hours of his life, when, notwithstanding the greatest possible caution, blood poisoning set in. It was known that the wound was deep, but it was not surmised that the knife had entered the heart until physicians performed the autopsy.

RECOVERED HER VOICE

Girl, Dumb Two Years, Said "Goodbye" to Her Dying Sister.

Mary H. Hecht of St. Louis, fifteen years old, who has been dumb for two years, strangely recovered her power of speech at the bedside of her dying sister.

Mary was passionately devoted to her four-year-old sister, who had been ill of scarlet fever, and she had been in almost constant attendance at her bedside for three weeks.

Suddenly she tried to sit up in bed, saying, "Goodbye, Mary."

To the surprise of all Mary replied in full tones, "Goodbye, sister."

The little girl died a few minutes later. Since then Mary's voice has been as strong as it ever was. Physicians attributed it to shock at her sister's death.

'Time's Flight Turned Backward' SAGE AND SULPHUR Made Her Look Twenty Years Younger

READ MRS. HERRICK'S SWORN STATEMENT

STATE OF NEW YORK }
 COUNTY OF MONROE } ss

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a girl, I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair which was the envy of my schoolmates, and which attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. As I grew older, my hair commenced to come out, just a little at first, but gradually more and more, and then began to turn gray. I was induced by the many good reports I had heard of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy to try a bottle. My hair was quite thin and gray when I began using Sage and Sulphur, and you can imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, being thicker, darker and more glossy than it had been for a long time. I continued to use Sage and Sulphur, and my hair is now as heavy, dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and my hair is still in splendid condition.

Sworn to before me this 14th day of July, 1907.

HOTEL CARLTON
MASS OF RUINS

Fire Destroys One of London's
Chief Show Places.

MANY AMERICANS CAUGHT

Jameson Lee Finney, American Actor, Was the Only Person Who Lost His Life in the Blaze, but Many Were Driven Out of Burning Structure Without Being Able to Save Their Belongings.

London, Aug. 10.—The Hotel Carlton, one of London's show places and the resort of the most fashionable English and American society, was last night ruined by fire. Three stories were gutted by the flames and the rest of the house, including the famous restaurant, which was opened by the late King Edward VII., was inundated.

Jameson Lee Finney, the American actor is missing and a body charred beyond recognition, found in the lavatory on the sixth floor, is believed to be that of Mr. Finney. His home was in St. Louis.

There were several exciting rescues by firemen on ladders, while from the rear of the hotel Vance McCormick of Chicago said he saw women tie sheets together and thus descend to the lower floors.

One of the most plucky participants in rescue work was R. W. Daniel, a Philadelphia banker, who with a companion, an Englishman, was in his room on the fifth floor. The Englishman was overcome by smoke. Daniel seized him and got him out of the window and then descended a rope three stories with the Englishman tucked under his arm.

John Purroy Mitchell, president of the New York board of aldermen, was asleep when the first alarm was given and knew nothing of the fire until a man who had gone down to dinner came back. Mr. Mitchell got his clothing and Mrs. Mitchell her jewelry and they went to another hotel.

John Wanamaker assisted in taking several American women from the fifth floor. "Billie" Burke, the actress, was among the first to get out of the hotel and she and her mother sat calmly in a taxi cab watching the fire.

Ex-Governor Brown of Maryland and his son were among the guests of the hotel. Miss Jessie Gardiner and Mrs. C. W. Shipley and her son of Chicago had a pretty hard experience. They arrived at the hotel from Oxford after 6 o'clock, and within an hour were without their wardrobes. A. W. Preston, head of the fruit trust, was among the Americans who were registered at the Carlton. Thomas A. Edison had just left the hotel for Boulogne.

NINETY-THREE DROWNED

The French Steamer Emir Went Down in Straits of Gibraltar.

Gibraltar, Aug. 10.—The French steamer Emir foundered five miles east of Tarifa, Spain, in the Straits of Gibraltar. Ninety-three persons were drowned. In a dense fog she came into collision with the British steamer Silverton. The crew of the latter rescued twenty-seven of the Emir's crew and passengers. The Silverton later put in here with her starboard bow stove in and her forepeak full of water.

The Emir sunk a few minutes after the collision. Sixty-nine passengers and twenty-four of the crew went down with the ship. All the passengers were French.

AN ECONOMY PROGRAM

Illinois Administration Endeavoring to Avert Increased Taxes.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 10.—Governor Deneen and officers of the state board of administration, and the state charitable institutions in perfecting plans for the new building authorized by the last general assembly, will endeavor to regulate the building so additional taxes will not be necessary to defray the expenses. It was decided, too, that the best policy to pursue will be to string the building over two fiscal years covered by the appropriations and to decide which building will be done first a committee was appointed.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 10.—Governor Noel has telegraphed to United States Senator Leroy Percy, urging him to reconsider his announced intention to tender his resignation at the January session of the Mississippi legislature. Senator Percy announced his intention of resigning when he stood for re-election and was defeated several days ago by former Governor James K. Vardaman.

PERKINS TO ESCAPE
CONTEMPT CHARGES

House Committee Alters Its Tone a Bit.

Washington, Aug. 10.—To the bar of the house George W. Perkins, formerly of J. P. Morgan & Co., will not be hauled on a charge of contempt, as was threatened by Chairman Stanley of the steel investigating committee because of Mr. Perkins' refusal to answer certain questions relative to campaign contributions. It looks very much as if the committee, after beating the tom-toms loudly, marched right up to the Perkins contempt question, then turned around and marched right down again.

Chairman Stanley and his Democratic associates insist, however, that a statement by R. V. Lindabury, counsel for the steel corporation, included in part the information sought by the committee and that a promise made by him, if fulfilled, will place in the hands of the investigators complete information relative to political contributions by the steel corporation.

Settles Miners' Dispute.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 10.—Two thousand Indiana coal miners, who had been on a strike for two months, but who returned to work recently pending the adjustment of their troubles, will remain at work as the result of a settlement of the disputes made by International President John P. White of the United Mine Workers of America, and President H. N. Taylor of the Illinois Coal Mine Operators.

A number of cases of mumps will prevent the orphans in the joint orphans' home of Henry and Rush counties at Spiceland, from spending a day at the Henry county fair this week. The members of the county board of charities had obtained the consent of the officials of the Terre Haute, Indianapolis & Eastern Traction Company to transport the orphans to New Castle from Spiceland and arrangements were made to meet them at the station and take them to the fair grounds for the day. When the children developed the mumps the matron cancelled the arrangements.

RUSHVILLE HORSES HAVE AN OFF DAY

Harrie Jones Fined Fifty Dollars by Judges For Not Trying at Lansing, Mich.

CLYDE NEBRO INSIDE MONEY

Many Rushville horses started in the races yesterday at several Indiana fairs and other race meets, but were not as successful as usual. Harrie Jones raced Mary Boo in the 2:15 pace at Lansing, Mich. He finished outside the money, Jones and two other drivers were fined $50 for not trying to win in this race. In the 2:24 pace, he finished fourth with Lilly Patchen. The best time was 2:16 1/2.

The only local horse to get inside the money at the New Castle fair races, was Martin Kelley, driven by Clyde Nebro. Nebro took second money in the 2:25 pace.

Scott Brannum started Peter Sims in the 2:24 trot at the Russellville fair but did not get inside the money.

Rich Wilson of this city is acting as starting judge this week at the Lawrenceburg fair.

LOUIS RICHARDS WILL DO A STUNT

Special Cartoonist, of Columbus, For the Daily Republican Will Appear at Chautauqua There.

HE IS VERY WELL KNOWN HERE

Louis Richards, cartoonist for the Columbus Republican, who has drawn some cartoons for the Daily Republican, is to appear on the chautauqua program at Columbus. It will be his first try at work on the lyceum work, but his friends at Columbus and in this city are convinced that he will make a very favorable impression. Kin Hubbard appeared at Columbus at the opening of the chautauqua and now Columbus believes that it has local talent which will make him look poor in comparison. Louis Richards is very well known by many Rushville young people.

The Columbus Republican says of Mr. Richards:

The people are to be given a taste of local talent Thursday afternoon at four o'clock when Louis Richards, cartoonist for the Republican, will appear. In announcing the appearance of Mr. Richards Tuesday night, James H. Shaw said: "We will see if Columbus can beat Indianapolis, which will be the case, from all I have heard." Then the big audience applauded heartily, assuring Mr. Richards a warm welcome when he does his first chautauqua stunt.

The Epworth League of the First M. E. church of Connersville will run an excursion to Dayton, Ohio, August 17. $1.50 round trip from Rushville. Children under 12 years of age half fare. Train leaves at 6:35 a. m.

country. When Dutch stories were in order Monday, Miss Hemingway wore a Gretchen costume with her hair in two braids, a white Dutch cap and short skirt with a black bodice and wooden shoes. Her former experience and efficiency in dialect work peculiarly fits her for this, for she can readily change to the costume of the Chinese court lady and presto! she is telling tales of the land of the orient.

Prof. Henrieta Calvin's course work with illustrations and examples of different forms of cooking is meeting with more public favor, especially among women this year than last which is saying much. The women take advantage of the opportunity to get recipes for the latest methods in cooking.

The lecture, "The Romance of the Reaper," accompanied by a hundred colored views and five thousand feet of motion pictures, is the attraction for Friday evening. The lecture will broaden the vision of both city and country people and give a graphic reason for the wonderful progress of America during the last century. The story is both interesting and educational—two qualities not always found in motion pictures, and for this reason is highly indorsed by the daily press and by societies and committees engaged in the conservation of public health.

Wagoner's orchestra gave the prelude yesterday and delighted the audiences at both entertainments. Especially was the orchestra good in the evening and it was loudly applauded after each selection. A collection of national airs and familiar tunes brought the audience to its feet and "America" was sung with a vim, when a small girl on the stage flaunted the stars and stripes in front of the crowd.

Edward P. Elliott, the monologue artist, on the program last night did not come up to the expectations of the program committee nor to the recommendations which have been sent here.

Latest Reports 21 Killed

Sam Young, living in Perkins street wishes to correct the statement made in last week's paper about finding 17 dead rats in his barn one morning after putting out a small quantity of Hargrove & Mullin Rat Paste. Mr. Young later in the day found four more rats, making a total of 21 killed in one night. Sam only invested 25c for the rat paste and said he was well pleased with results and that he had enough paste left of the 25c box to kill 479 more rats and that he intended doing it, too. 12616
